IN DECEMBER.

I walk through the fields in December,
As night is beginning to fall—
All the landscape is somber and dreary,
All nature is in winter's thrall.

The golden rods standing the faded,
Pale phantoms of loveliness dead,
Seem to sigh for beauty now lost them,
To weep for the autumn that's fled.

And as I pause, I remember
My beautiful hopes that are dead,
They died with the flowers in November
And left me wan ghosts in their stead.

HARTFORD, KY., DEC. 17, '91.

A CHRISTIAN HOUSE.

What it Takes to Make a Typical Christian House.

In a recent Journal I spoke of a Christian home and one of my male readers writes and asks: "What do you mean by a Christian home?" I will tell you what I mean, my brother.

I mean a home in which the Bible is the chief book; a home in which the family kneel in prayer; a home in which father and mother are practical Christians; a home in which on Sabbath, from sunrise to sunset, there is profitable converse and cheerful songs
and suggestions of a better world.
Whether the wall be frescoed or not,
or only a ceiling of unplanned rafters;
whether marble lions are couchant at the front entrance or a plain latch is lifted by a tow-string, that home is the ante-chamber of heaven. A man never gets over having lived in such an early home. It holds him in an eternal grip. Though his parents may have been gone forty years, the tears of penitence and gladness that were wept at the family altar still glitter in his memory. Nay, do you not now feel warm and hot on your hands the tears which your mother shed thirty years ago, when, one cold and winter night, she came and wrapped you up in the bed and prayed for your welfare here and for your everlasting welfare before the throne?
O ye that are to set up your own home, see that it be a Christian home!
Let Jesus make the wine at that wedding.

What a grand thing it is to have God stand guard at a door, and the Lord Jesus the family physician; and the wings of angels the canopy over the pillow; and the Lord of Glory a perpetual guest. You say it is important that the wife and mother be a Christian. I say to you, it is just as important that the husband and father be a Christian. Yet how many fathers are worldly men; but I have confidence in her, and I think she will bring the whole family up right." It will not do, my brother who may read these words. The fact that you are not a Christian has more influence on your family than the fact that your wife is a Christian. Your children will say, "Father is a very good man;
he is not a Christian, and if he can risk the future, I can risk the future." O, father and husband, join your wife
on the road to heaven, and at night gather your family at the altar! Do you say, "I can't pray; I am a man of few words, and I don't think I could put half a dozen sentences together in such a prayer." You can pray; you can.
If your child were down with scarlet-fever, and the next hour were to decide its recovery or its death, you would pray in sobs and groans, and paroxysms of earnestness. Yes, you can pray. When the eternal life of your household may depend upon your supplication, let your knees timber and go down; gather your family, kneel down, and in the solemn and hushed presence of God, gather up all your sorrow and temptations and sins, and cry out, "Good Lord, deliver us."

Who Pays The Duty?

If Mr. Tom Mann speaks the truth, and we have no reason to question
his assertions, the people of Yorkshire have among them some remarkable evidence of the failure of a fiscal policy which was to confer lasting benefits upon the working classes. In an address which he has just delivered at Barnley, Mr. Mann remarked that:
"They found skilled men in Yorkshire working as weavers for 22s. per week. When they saw women, and even children, have to turn out and go into the mills to assist in making a living, that clearly indicated that there was something very unsatisfactory."

There is something radically wrong,
and the bottom of it is to be found in our fiscal policy. In order to compete with any degree of success against goods imported free from abroad, the men are forced to accept low wages,
and to keep down the cost of production the women and children are attracted to the mills. There is also another side to this question. If we are to retain a hold on foreign markets, although it may be, wages must be kept down that the high foreign Tariffs may be overcome. One of the greatest arguments against the theory that the consumer pays the import duty is to be found in the fact that when a foreign nation increases the Tariff on a British product, the establishments charges as well as the wages on this side of the water are lowered, in order to give the manufacturer or the merchant a chance to deal successfully with the change. If the consumer paid the duty there would be little chance for our exports to grumble. But our manufacturers and work people do make sacrifices to meet the extra duty,

and we accordingly hear grumbling from both. Let Mr. Mann impress these circumstances upon his mind, and trouble less about impossible schemes, and yet he may be able to accomplish some good for the working classes.

Meeting Postponed.

For months it has been contemplated that our January meeting would be continued, and a series of meetings held. To this end, the services of Rev. J. M. Salles, of Headsboro, Ky., had been secured by me to assist in said series of meetings, but when the time came, both myself and Brother Salles were wholly disabled by
"la grippe" and its concomitants;
and besides, such was the health condition of the people of our town, that we deemed it impracticable to attempt a series of meetings at this time: hence the meeting has been postponed until spring, when we propose to begin a series of meetings in our church sometime, from the fourth Sunday in March to the second Sunday in April, and shall still expect to have the assistance of Rev. J. M. Sal-les.

County Alliance Meeting.

The alliance meeting convened on the 7th and 8th of this month at Equality Church. I would say that owing to the inclemency of the weather and the vast amount of sickness in the country at the time, the attendance was not very large, yet, it was one of the grandest meetings ever held in the county. There was a unit in the demands laid down by our National body, which met at Indianapolis, Ind. The body received the report of their delegate to the State Union, Bro. B. F. Bartlett, and gave him a unanimous endorsement
as such. I would say to the brotherhood, that there was some very important business transacted in our Jan. meeting of '92, as you will find out hereafter.

I now return thanks to the brethren of Equality neighborhood for the hospitable manner in which they treated the delegation that assembled with them. This done by order of the body. B. F. BARTLETT.

ATNAVILLE, KY.

JAN. 16, 1892.—Our little town is on the boom. A number of new dwellings are going up and there is quite a demand for them on account of so many families moving in from other places. The main attraction here is our school, which is being taught by Miss Coleman, of Hartford.

The school however, is very much afflicted with grip just now; in fact, all the surrounding country has it. There are thirty cases here, some of which are past recovery.
Our debating society, which meets every Friday night, is quite the liveliest society of its kind in these parts.
We have also an immense Sunday school in which the old as well as the young take part and we have an enjoyable time studying the scriptures.

Rev. B. F. Jenkins, who was recently called to our church, Zion, arrived Friday and delivered his first sermon Sunday, Jan. 10.

Mrs. Susan Taylor has just returned from Reynolds, where she has been on an extended visit to her daughter.

Frank Westfield spent several days last week in Deaneville. Miss Fannie Simpson returned from Fordville
Monday.

EGYPTIAN ANTIQUITIES, Interesting Police Discover- ed a Few Miles From Alexandria.

Valuable archaeological "finds" are being developed not far from Alexandria, Egypt. They are illustrative of the Graeco-Roman period. Investigation is under Darius Pasha, and is being pushed between thirteen and fourteen miles from Alexandria. The London Times says of the discoveries:

At four to six feet below the surface the diggers found three statues to rose granites, ten feet high, lying faced downward, among the ruins of a temple, of which part of the outer wall with lower portions of columns and several square yards of flooring have been laid bare. The statues had been originally erected at or within the temple, and one of them is lying in front of its pedestal, which is about three feet high. They represent in a group, according to the hieroglyphic inscriptions, Ramesses II. (the Greek Sesostris) and his Queen Hentmara seated. The third statue is of Ram-esses II in an upright posture, wearing a pleated tunic, bracelets, military crown, and a girdle bearing the inscription, "Beloved of Seth." At his left side he holds a scepter, surmounted by the head of his son Menephtah
(the Pharaoh of the Exodus), whose cartouch is inscribed on the scepter.

On the plinth at his back, which is of equal height with the statue, is chiseled
a bas-relief of Queen Hentmara
in profile, wearing a pleated tunic
and the royal trees. The inscription above her head is "Daughter of the King—beloved of her father—Royal spouse—great favorite Hentmara." On the back of the plinth is carved the royal banner of Ramesses II., with all his known titles and appellations.
The execution of the three statues is in the plain, vigorous style of the Twelfth Dynasty.

The feet of Ramesses, which had been broken off in one piece with a clean fracture, were found at a few yards distance. The two heads of the group have also been broken off, and are being searched for.

It is surmised that the temple and statues were overthrown after the edict of Theodosius, A. D. 380, abolishing the Egyptian religion but nothing has yet been discovered to identify the temple with any of those known to have existed during the Egyptian or Graeco-Roman periods.

Dr. Nesutah Bey's interpretation of the inscription is—Hentmara,
daughter of the King, beloved of her father (i. e., the preceding King, Osiris Menephtah, who was father of both Ramesses and Hentmara), royal spouse (of Ramesses II.) (the referring also to Ramesses) great favorite of Seth.

The Pharaohs, following the example of Osiris, King of the Gods,
and his sister Isis, had the prerogative of espousing their own sisters, and this custom, consecrated by both the civil and religious law, was followed in several instances by the Pharaohs.

Protection in Australia.

It has been persistently claimed by the free traders that the colony of New South Wales, which has adhered to free trade, has prospered greatly,
while Victoria, which adopted the protective policy in 1870, has languished and dwindled. New South Wales has lately modified her fiscal system in the direction of protection, which is sufficient indication that her people have not been satisfied with the way they were getting on under free trade. The fact of that change ought to be enough to shut the mouths of free-traders who disprove their assertions about the relative condition of the two colonies.

Sir Guilford L. Molesworth has recently written a letter to London Fair Trade, in which he compares their progress. In the first place, he corrects an error in figures made by a Mr. Robinson in a letter to the London Times, in which it was stated that in five years ending in 1889 the population of New South Wales had increased 32 per cent, while that of Victoria had only increased by 16 1/2 per cent. Sir Guilford gives the correct figures as 16 1/2 per cent, for Victoria and 17 per cent, for New South Wales.

New South Wales has more than three times the area of Victoria, and has, besides, excellent pastoral and agricultural districts, an unusual wealth and variety of minerals, including gold, extensive silver and lead mines, diamonds, abundance of tin, magnificent coal beds with seams
of enormous thickness, valuable deposits of iron ore of various qualities
in close proximity to coal and limestone, copper, antimony, bismuth,
manganese, cobalt, zinc and platinum.

Victoria has little coal and none of the other minerals but gold, and her gold mines, which caused her to be made a separate colony, have decreased continually in productiveness
till her output of gold in 1889 was £2-400,000 less than it was in 1870.
Sir Guilford gives a table comparing statistically the condition of Victoria in 1870 and 1889, by which it appears that its population has increased

FALLS OF ROUGH, KY.

JAN. 9, 1892.—Since our last letter to the REPUBLICAN, several deaths have claimed their victims. Among them are Joseph Wilson, Wesley Porter and Mrs. Annie Slavin. At Gausey, Ky., on Christmas day, Wm.
Porter and Joseph Young became involved in a drunken row, in which Porter stabbed Young very severely.
Young is recovering. Wm. Woolley and Frank Tuttle have built a flat-boat for the purpose of shipping hickory timber, hoop-poles and cross-ties. Col. L. Green went to Evansville last week to buy a pleasure boat to run in Rough River above his mil-dam. The new depot at this place is now completed and a lady has been assigned the office as telegraph operator. The ax handle factory is still in full operation, furnishing employment for several men. The steam saw mill has begun work, having all the logs they can get. The saw is worked with cross-ties, staves, hoops, lumber and hickory timber that unless some of it is shipped the haulers will have to quit work for a while.

Hartford Republican

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING.

J. B. ROGERS, Editor and Proprietor.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 22, 1892.

JUDGE LINDSAY declines.

The Trigg county court house was burned last week.

JOHN SHERMAN will be Senator another six years.

CARDINAL MANNING, the great English prelate, is dead.

The young Duke of Clarence and grandson of Victoria died recently in England.

JESSE BROWN, a negro, was hanged at Paducah last Friday for the murder of John Larry last January.

The McKinley bill continues to vindicate itself before the people, and the "triumph of lying" will triumph no more.

The Green River Republican has changed hands, and now it is one of the brightest and newest papers in this part of the State.

SENATOR SHERMAN has announced that he will retire from the Senate when he has completed the term for which he was recently elected.

CLEVELAND Democrats are only letting their Chittin's Presidential boom take a much needed rest. It is not dead, as has been reported.

NOTWITHSTANDING the super-human efforts of the Democrats to suppress Tom Pettit, the "tail still seems to be wagging the dog" at Frankfort.

Let us hear something more about "McKinley prices," if Democratic papers will pardon us for reviving a subject, which must give them such heart pangs.

The spring term of Hartford College opened Monday, with a large number of new students, and we are glad to see so many young teachers among them.

We are pleased to publish this week a pretty little poem from the pen of another fair young poetess of Hartford, who says, however, we just must not tell her name.

The exports from the United States were larger in November last, than ever before in our history. And still the Free Trade fanatics cry that a Protective Tariff will destroy foreign trade.

The Republican State Central Committee has been called to meet at Louisville the 27th inst. The Committee will doubtless call the next State Convention, and fix the time and place for holding it.

The Central City Herald has had a change lately. Mr. L. J. Oldham having bought a half interest. The Herald is a good paper, its politics to the contrary notwithstanding, and we wish it continued success.

AN anti-pension society has been organized at Washington for the purpose of cutting down the annual pension appropriation to about one-fourth its present amount. It is safe to say the scheme is of Democratic origin.

The Democrats are ever ready to censure the Republican party for a full Treasury at Washington, but no Kentucky Republican returns fire by saying that the Democrats have a full Treasury at Frankfort. No, never.

The good people of Lexington have organized a Law and Order League. Hartford needs this or something else to stop the shameful and disgusting distribution of whisky, which some disreputable scoundrel, or other, is carrying on in our midst.

The Owensboro Inquirer professes to believe it is following a great Presidential procession, headed by Senator Hill. It would be funny if the Inquirer's intemperate procession should turn to be only an ordinary man with a monkey and hand organ.

The Calhoun Courier has suspended publication. If it had been a Republican paper, columns would have been written by Democratic journals concerning the glad event, under head lines, "another Republican paper turns its toes to the daisies," etc.

The Courier-Journal claims that there are no material differences between the opinions of Crisp and Mills on the tariff, yet it says the "triumphant march of tariff reform had met with no back set, up to the election of Speaker Crisp." What does the C-J mean by such a vague expression?

The Democratic members of the House Committee on Ways and Means evidently consider that they "know it all," so far as the Tariff is concerned, as they have decided not to grant any hearing to industries liable to be effected by Tariff Legislation. Fortunately it is beyond the power of these "big headed" Democrats to hurt anybody, except their own party.

GOVERNOR BROWN, in his message, says that there will be a deficit in the Treasury on June 30th, next, amounting to $472,755.11. Let the Republican party rule the Commonwealth for a few years and this state of affairs, of which every Kentuckian is heartily ashamed, will be wiped out, and instead of having the Chief Executive of the State tell the world of a deficit in the Treasury, he will, through wise Republican laws, be enabled to say what a Kentucky Governor seldom says, that "there is a balance in the Treasury."

SOME newspapers soon forget, especially when it is to their interest to do so. A certain newspaper in this county has ever gladly given its columns to those who would attack Republicans, either fairly or unfairly, but always preferring the latter, and it now comes with poor grace from this same sycophantic sheet to hold up its clean (?) hands in holy horror, because a good Democrat, through our columns, chose to give it some very scathing truths. But it's always better, you know, to make a good run than a bad stand.

Those who have opposed a Protective Tariff have never claimed that the levying of a duty on foreign imports did more than to add to the cost of the article the amount of the duty so levied. The duty on quinine, we believe, was 20 per cent. and when it sold at $5 an ounce, the duty was one dollar. Now when quinine was put on the free list, all that could come from that, according to the Free Trade theory, was the reduction of the cost of an ounce of quinine from $5 to $4. But it now sells at 40cts. an ounce, and still the whole reduction in price is claimed as an argument for Free Trade. "Consistency thou art," etc.

Springer vs. Jackson.

Congressman Andrew Jackson Springer, Chair-in-his famous letter man of Ways and Means, of North Carolina, died, April 26, January 8, 1892, 1824.

The country does not need to be informed, by a bill for a general revision of the Tariff, what the Democratic means of national independence and self defense would do if the law-making power were in the hands of our party.

One-half of the Tariff burden will be lifted from the shoulders of the soil for the grower by placing wool on the free list and making the corresponding reductions in the national defense, duties on woolen goods to have ex-dolls. A measure intended to them thus affecting so equate and fair largely the needs—Protection, that sary expenses of our manufacturers the people, so es-and laborers may sential to their be placed in fair health and com-competition with fort, will not fail those of Europe, to attract univer-and that we may sal attention and have within our receive, when those country a supply oughly understood of those leading universal support, articles so essential to war. In short, sir, we have been too long subject to the policy of British merchants.

KINDERHOOK, N.Y.

After several weeks of absence I will again endeavor to send a few items to your valuable paper. Not thinking it will add anything to your already newsy sheet, but merely to let you know what is going on in this vicinity.

Mrs. Alzieu Rogers, Hartford, is at the bedside of her mother, who is sick.

Miss Ollie Anderson, who has been quite sick for several days, is we are glad to state, better at this writing.

Mr. V. D. D. Stevens and wife, are both confined to their room with pneumonia.

After the absence of a week, Miss Alice Bowman, has again taken charge of her school, at Alexander.

The sick at Mr. J. W. Stevens' are all improving, and will soon be out again.

I am glad to note the change, that there has been in the Hartford Republican, since it has been under the management of our worthy young friend, Mr. Jo. B. Rogers, and will dare say that before the close of 1892, it will be a welcome visitor, in every home in the county. May its circulation increase until it will have the largest circulation of any paper in Western Kentucky.

GRASSHOPPER.

Examination for Graduation in the Common School Course.

The examinations for graduation in a Common School, will be held for White applicants, on February 5, and June 17, for Colored, February, 6, and June 18, 1892.

Heretofore pupils have not attended these examinations, but it is to be hoped that several will apply, on one or both of these dates. To those pupils who pass successfully, a Certificate will be granted, stating that the person to whom it is issued has completed the Common School Course. Let the entergetic boys and girls come in.

JO. B. ROGERS, Co. Supt.

Rev. E. J. Maddox has declined the call of the Walnut Street Baptist Church, of Owensboro, Ky.

CLIPPED.

ESPECIALLY HARTFORD.

The young ladies of Danville have started their leap-year with vim and vigor. Let no old bachelor escape, in Danville or anywhere else.

TRUE.

There is no more reason why the state should pay for newspapers for the members of the Legislature than that it should pay for the cigars that they smoke or the liquors they drink.

NEXT ONE IN NOVEMBER.

The Courier-Journal gang received three notable "knock-outs" within the past year. First, the new constitution was adopted over its protests—paid for by the corporations—second, Crisp was elected speaker of the house of Representatives by Hill and Tammany Hall, thus dethroning Waterson's pet hobby, "free trade;" third Myers, the C-J's little tin horn, was defeated for speaker in the state Legislature by Moore, the farmers' candidate.

WHAT ABOUT THE POOR BACHELOR?

An ill-natured thought often makes us bluer than the person to whom it is directed. A happy mind is an elixir, and as are the spirits of the wife in the home, so will be those of the husband, who, in turn, will carry them into the other world. Domestic happiness often colors commercial prosperity. The hearthstone is the corner of the counting-room. An unhappy wife makes a blue merchant. As we men live at home, so we work in the outer world.

EXACTLY SO.

Senator Hiscock, of New York, says that if Hill is left alone by the Republican papers he will soon shrink into small proportions. Probably there is much truth in this. Hill's Democratic and Republican foes have undoubtedly, by talking about him, given himself and his followers an inflated and extravagant notion of his importance. The end to all this, however, is near at hand. After the National Convention meets, which will put up somebody else, Hill will be left alone with great persistence and unanimity.

CROMWELL, KY.

JAN. 20, 1892.—Our town was in a state of excitement last Saturday morning, caused by a fire. The house and contents belonging to Cary Porter were entirely consumed.

The General Baptists are holding a series of meetings here under the management of Revs. Burden, Burden and Spann. Many are exhibiting quite an interest in the welfare of their souls.

Mrs. Camilla Daniel, wife of A. C. Daniel, died at her home last night, after an illness of six days. Her remains will be interred to-day at the family cemetery. She leaves five small children besides a husband to mourn her loss.

Mrs. J. S. Montague left last week for Seebree City, where she will spend several weeks visiting her mother, Mrs. McMullen.

Dr. Turner and family moved in our midst last week, and as he bought property he will be a permanent resident; we consider them quite an acquisition, as he has two charming daughters.

Capt. R. D. Hays sold his house and lot on Mulberry Street to Dr. Turner. Capt. Hays and family have gone to Fordville to reside.

Miss Sina Martin is on the streets again. Miss Effie Kahn, after a few days in the house wrestling with the grip, is out again.

The school closed here last Friday, and strange to say, no one has been heard to murmur "I am sorry," not even the teachers.

Invitations are out announcing a grand ball at the Gentry Hotel Friday night. It is expected to be a brilliant affair, as the young men on the committee were never known to fail in an undertaking.

Quarterly meeting will convene here the first Saturday and Sunday in February.

Uncle Jesse Brookens, of color, is very low with grip; he is the oldest man in the county, having celebrated his 109th birthday.

Will Strother, of Rochester, was here Saturday and Sunday, the guest of his sister, Mrs. Dr. McKenny.

J. C. Gentry is talking of leaving us soon; he has a slight attack of Western fever. Here's success to you Bud, hoping you may return long before the year is out.

If this is not overlooked entirely, you may expect to hear again from WHITE WINGS.

Dental Notice.

It is my good pleasure to announce to the public that I have taken rooms over the Beaver Dam Bank and now have the most elegant and best furnished dental office in this part of the Green River country. First-class work at reasonable prices. In my office from the 1st to the 15th of each month. Sensibly thankful for past patronage and respectfully soliciting a continuance of same, I am Yours truly, W. T. MCKENNEY, Dentist, Beaver Dam, Ky.

Halus Davis, Isaac Foster and the Barnett Bros. delivered a drove of hogs at Beaver Dam Wednesday.

TOWN TATTTLER.

He thinks the slide a vile device, And naught could make him gloss it; That's why, although, he meets some ice, He could never cross it.

Not long ago a prominent lawyer of the Hartford bar, who does not drink, had brought up from the city of Owensboro, a half gallon of old and well-preserved "fire-water" on which to treat his friends, who love to guzzle the aforesaid liquor in all quantities, especially large ones. But this lawyer was greatly displeased with himself when he found that a "visitor within our gates" absorbed the juice of the jug to such an extent that the said visitor had to be assisted to his room.

One element of hoodlumism seems to have disappeared from Hartford audiences. We no more hear the whistler. We are glad of it. However, there was another nuisance at the College entertainment. This was the man close to the stove, who gets too hot, and opens the stove door. Doesn't care if everybody else freezes, if he can only be comfortable. This scion from the stem of cussedness ought to be nipped in the bud.

Hartford is infested with a certain class of young "hyenias," who call themselves the "younger generation," that attend prayer-meeting three nights in each week for no other purpose than to make a noise, and disturb those people who attend such places for benefiting themselves spiritually. Only a few nights since the Tattler attended one of the prayer-meetings of town, and these little "hoodlums," were there to laugh at everything that happens.

Hartford's young people are always alive when it comes to keeping up the social part of town. There is never a time when it is a hard matter to get up an entertainment of some kind. Ever since the dawn of leap year the town has been alive socially and with more elaborate entertainments to follow soon, no doubt the Tattler, with the rest of the old bachelors, will be himself away to a sequestered spot and there contemplate entering the matrimonial state.

Not long ago a magnificent bachelor, who has seen about forty Fourth of Julys, and as many autumns, very seriously remarked that if he had his life to live over again, he would marry at nineteen. So, my dear reader, if you are of the male persuasion and unaltered, you might do well by not allowing your nineteenth year to pass ever your unworthy head, until you run that head into the matrimonial halter, and give the other end of the rope to some fair member of the other persuasion.

An English Minister thus describes the church: "What is the church? It is more than a club for social chat. It is not a drilling ground for young orators; it is not a theological entertainment, with a programme packed with instructions to the minister as to what he shall preach; it is not a debating society for the discussion of the faults of deacons; it is not a repository for the storage of grievances; it is not a battlefield where every sort of contemptible grievance may be fought out; it is not a park where all the loiterers of creation may gather and lounge. It is the marshaling of the forces of the Christian life, and the hurling of them in all their serried glory, like the life guard phalanx at Waterloo, against the hypocrisies, the corruptions, and the agonies of the world."

Dental Notice.

Dr. J. P. Williams, of the office of Dr. W. B. Armendt, Owensboro, Ky., will be in Hartford, February 8, 1892, and remain one week. Those needing Dental work, will do well to call on Dr. Williams while he is here.

ROSINE, KY.

JAN. 18, 1892.—Uncle John Craig, a very old and respectable citizen, died last Tuesday of pneumonia. Mrs. Ann McCord, wife of John McCord, died at her home in Danmore, Muhlenburg county, last Friday, and was brought to Rosine Sunday evening. Mrs. McCord was a former citizen of Ohio county, and was a Christian lady. She was loved by all who knew her. She leaves a husband to mourn her loss.

J. W. Taylor, who has been ill for some time, is out again. J. W. Lewis has had a slight attack of la grippe. Mrs. Dr. Liles is ill. Mr. J. J. Layton, is sick. Mrs. Dr. Wedding is better. Governor Otto is very ill.

Chas. Talley is at home this week with his family.

FAIR BROS. & CO.

Every time he Opened His Mouth,
He puts His Foot in It.

And in this instance it is we who have put our foot into it, and this is just the way it all happened. Two weeks ago the bright, sunny days that remind us so much of early spring time, prompted us to look around and see just what Winter Goods must go, if at a sacrifice. The search was made; the result being that our Customers found our entire line of Winter Boots, Shoes, Jeans, Linseys, Bed Comforts, Blankets, Shawls, Cloaks, Overcoats and many other articles advertised at cost.

Winter has just made its appearance, and, so by opening our mouth, we have, beyond a doubt, put our foot into it. The mistake is ours. We are men of reputation, and never go back on our word, so you can get all our Winter Goods at Springtime prices.

Our Mens Boots go from $1.50 to $2.00; Boys, 75c. to $1.00; Childrens Coarse Shoes from 25c. to 75c.; Ladies Coarse Shoes, 75c. to $1.00. They are the best made, and are bargains.

Overcoats are getting scarce, the reason is they are going cheap. Now is the time to buy one. You can save from $2 to $5. We are daily receiving our Spring Suits—selections have been made with greatest care and the prices are the lowest. We are headquarters in every line.

The TRADE PALACE is the pride of Ohio county. The people know it is the leader, carries the largest stock of clothing, hats, boots and shoes, got strictly one price, always has the latest styles, and who-soever comes to trade with us for the first time always comes back and is satisfied in every respect.

Mrs. J. P. Tinsley died at her home Monday evening, January 18, 1892. She had been confined to her bed sometime with pneumonia and her death was expected before the Angel of God came to claim her. She was a true Christian woman, having been an earnest worker in the Methodist Church. Her remains were laid to rest Tuesday afternoon.

We take pleasure in calling attention to the card of Dr. J. H. White, dentist, found elsewhere in this issue. Dr. White is a rising young dentist, and thoroughly prepared to do first-class work. His office is furnished with all necessary appliances and is altogether a model office. The Dr. is a genial, pleasant fellow and we wish him abundant success.

The Literary Societies of Hartford College elected officers for the third term last Friday. They are as follows: Adelpheans—R. E. L. Simmerman, Pres.; W. H. Rhoads, Vice Pres.; A. L. Coke, Sec'y; R. Nelson, Treas.; J. D. Coleman, Sergeant; J. W. Lytle, Janitor. R. E. C's.—Ida Duke, President; Laura Rander, Vice Pres.; Salla Crawford, Sec'y; Ida Rander, Treas.; Emma Williams, Marshal; Anna Bean, Critic; Verda Duke, Janitor.

T. J. Morton's grocery store was the scene of a most unpleasant affair on Monday night. It seemed that Berry Rial and Pete Ham had imbibed more liquor than they could carry and walk straight, and Berry proceeded to make things lively in the latest and most approved style. He was very loud and boisterous and had several quarrels, which would not have occurred had he been sober. Berry is a good-hearted fellow, but like too many of our boys, he "carries at the wine and is bitten."

IN AND ABOUT TOWN.

We were present Sunday morning at the C. P. Sunday School and heard the presentation speech of Prof. Alexander, of a beautiful Bible given to Superintendent Milligan by our worthy townsman, C. R. Martin, as a reward for having enlisted more new scholars in his Sunday School during the past year. Prof. Alexander, in his usual happy manner, after complimenting the various schools for their laudible efforts in the most feeling manner, presented the book with the words: "It is a partial reward for meritorious work." Mr. Milligan, in a few well chosen words, made his acknowledgment, thanking Mr. Martin for the beautiful gift, and the Sunday School for its co-operation with him in the Sunday School work.

A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Martin with a request that a synopsis of the speeches be furnished each county paper for publication.

College Hall is full of new students. A great many more are expected in the near future. Of course Prof. Alexander is happy.

The entertainment given at College Hall on last Friday night by the class in Literature, under the management of Prof. Lytle was largely attended and seemed to be enjoyed by all present. The music furnished by the Hartford String Band was splendid. "Our boys" know just how to please an audience.

I wonder if the boys are waiting for the girls to ask them to go sleighing? If so, speak out. X X

Ernest Tracy has returned from his extensive stay in Louisville, Jeffersonville, Bowling Green and other points.

Dr. T. G. Turner, Jno. W. Martin, Cronwell; J. P. Miller, Beaver Dam; Prof. C. B. Likens, South Carrollton, were in town Monday.

Miss Lula Johnson, who recently closed a very successful school in Muhlenberg county, has come to Hartford to live with her parents. She entered Hartford College Monday morning.

College Happenings.

JAN. 18.—The beginning of the last half of the school term, has come and gone. Notwithstanding the weather being cloudy and threatening, there has not been for a long time so large an assembly of students, all looking bright and ready for work, as there were assembled in Chapel Hall on Monday morning.

Dr. Alexander, in his ever pleasing manner, conducted the exercises, and made all happy by treating them to one of his fine, practical talks. Among those who matriculated Monday morning are: M. P. Kimbley, M. E. Morton, Corralvo; Charles Baker; A. R. Renfrow, Sulphur Springs; Lodford Truman, Fordville; John H. Barnes, Prentiss; Byron Barnes, Beaver Dam; Hugh Bailey, Crishton; U. C. Barnett, Hartford; Silas Ticheonor, McHenry; Sophia Davidson, Sidde Davidson, Cromwell; Bertha Felix, Olaton; Eva Pirtle, Ruth Combs, Lulu Milligan, E. V. Milligan, Lulu Johnson, Hartford. Maggie Stewart, Stewart, Intermediate room.

Misses Annie Bean, Verda Taylor, City; Messers Jas. S. Fields, Louisville; C. B. B. Felix, Olaton, were visitors at general exercises Monday morning.

Dr. Alexander still has charge of the class in Raul's Rhetoric. Everything is flourishing and moving along with work.

Several students are still on the sick list.

New students are matriculating every day.

The societies are flourishing, and doing good work.

College Orations.

On last Friday evening, the class in English Literature and History was greeted by a large and attentive audience. The occasion being the presentation of original orations by the class. Promptly at the hour hand pointed to seven, the class with their teacher took their places upon the rostrum.

The first speaker of the evening was L. N. Burns, his subject, "One Pivot in the World's History," was treated in such a manner as to show research and thought. He was followed by Miss Stella Thomas, subject, "The Ayrshire Plowman" showing forth the wonderful genius of the famous poet, Burns. A. L. Coke came next with a well prepared speech upon the subject of "Plagiarists." The "Peculiarities of Goldsmith" was then delivered in a very pleasing manner by Miss Mary Miller. "Skepticism" was set forth in a very able manner by L. R. Barnett. "The Dawn of Freedom" was the subject of an oration by Miss Salla Crawford, which was both well prepared and well rendered and did credit to the young lady. R. D. Walker came next and delivered an oration upon "Clubs and Coffee Houses" which was enjoyed by all. He kept the house in a roar of laughter, and at the close of the exercises was called upon to repeat, which he did in a way that only Bob can do. He was followed by Miss Lura Williams, whose subject was "The Poets Laureate." Her speech proved her thorough acquaintance with her subject. R. E. Lee Simmerman followed in a pleasing address upon the subject, "A Prince of Good Fellows," and impressed one and all that he was thoroughly conversant with his theme. The last speaker of the evening was Miss Emma Fair, who gave to the public some very fine thoughts in a well prepared speech upon the subject, "From the Dawn to the Twilight."

Music was furnished by the String Band, with Marvin Bean, the popular young violinist, as leader.

Prof. Lytle, the young man in charge of the class, never looked more pleased, as he saw the progress of his pupils. And well, too, he might feel proud, for never has a class been greeted by an appreciative audience as the one last Friday night.

Every one left, feeling that he had been benefited by the speeches of the bright young orators.

Big Stock Sale.

Minton & Thornton, of Lebanon, Ky.; will sell in Hartford, Ky., on the 25th of February, about 30 head of standard and high bred mares and young stock. This stock will consist mostly of nice brood mares, well bred; some trotting and some saddle bred, well broke to ride and drive, high style and a number in foal, and altogether the best lot of stock ever brought to Western Kentucky. This stock has all been selected from the best, and there are a number of them fancy bred. This stock will be sold to the highest bidder, without reserve or by bid and be as represented. Capt. English will conduct the sale. TERMS:—Cash or its equivalent. Let everybody attend.

School Closed.

The school at No. 104, which has been under the care of Prof. A. A. Brown, closed last Saturday. The day was spent in various exercises. The forenoon was given to the regular lessons; the afternoon to select reading, review in Kentucky History and Arithmetic. Messrs. J. P. Miller and J. Denham Hoeker made very interesting and appropriate talks. The following named pupils attended school the entire session without missing a day: Misses Susie Austin, Maggie Paxton; Master Sammie Paxton and Cleburn Miller.

This has been a very successful session and reflects great credit on the teacher, patrons and pupils. This makes fifteen months in succession for Mr. Brown here, and during that period no trouble whatever has occurred between himself and any pupil and none among the pupils themselves.

Mr. Miller is a noble Trustee having made twelve visits to the school during the session.

Anderson's Bazaar.

This Wonderful Store which is admitted by all to be the model business house of this section, because of its honest business methods, and because it always has "ONE PRICE TO ALL" as its motto and sells goods as cheap to a child as to the most experienced buyer; under the Supervision of Misses Gibson and Collins, has just closed one of the most successful business years of its existence.

These ladies keep posted as to the "latest things out," and with the assistance of that Prince of Merchants, S. W. Anderson, as buyer, they can always be depended upon to have just what you want in their line, at the lowest cash price, so if you need HONEST GOODS at HONEST PRICES, it will, no doubt, pay you to visit the

BAZAAR.

Items of Interest.

Near Crawfordsville, Ind., Jan. 11, a train on the Monon railroad was wrecked and three persons were killed and thirty-two others wounded, some of whom will die.

While sitting before the family fire, Andrew Jackson, Richmond, Mo., killed his brother William.

Abe Garrison, who lives in Calhoun County, W. Va., eloped with another man's wife after abandoning his family, stealing two horses and firing the house in which his father was dying.

At Sedalia, Mo., recently, a seven-year-old boy and his little five-year-old sister were burned to death in the house while their parents were away from home.

A man and wife named McDonald, living near Barboursville, are sixty-seven and sixty-six years old, respectively. They have 13 living children, 104 grandchildren, and 11 great-grandchildren, and the whole McDonald family live within three miles of Barboursville.

At McAllister, I. T., recently, a mine explosion caused the death of more than sixty men. One hundred and seventeen were wounded.

The greatest stamp-licker in the world is a pretty little miss in Philadelphia. She can lick and stick 3000 stamps in one hour.

There's a patent medicine which is not a patent medicine—paradoxical as that may sound. It's a discovery! the golden discovery of medical science! It's the medicine for you—tired, run-down, exhausted, nerve-wasted men and women; for you sufferers from diseases of skin or scalp, liver or lungs—it changes every one, its season always, because it aims to purify the fountain of life—the blood—upon which all such diseases depend. The medicine is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

The makers of it have enough confidence in it to sell it on trial, that is—you can get it from your druggist, and if it doesn't do what it's claimed to do, you can get your money back, every cent of it. That's what the makers call taking the risk of their word.

Tiny, little, sugar-coated granules, are what Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are. The best Liver Pills ever invented; active, yet mild in operation; cure sick and bilious headaches, one a dose.

About Noses.

Bonaparte, who was a man of keen and quick perception, never chose if he could help it, says the London Truth, a man with a poor nose for a place of responsibility.

Marshal Ney had a poor nose, and was incapable of conceiving a plan of battle.

The Chosen People have big noses, and are not liable to colds in the head.

Massena, the most resourceful of all Bonaparte's marshals, was a large-nosed Jew.

Bernadotte, the most clever in intrigue, and the least given to stupid hero worship, was another.

Gambetta had a large nose and a small amount of brain.

The same thing may be said of the greatest artist that France ever produced—Renoir.

Jules Ferry is small-brained and big-nosed.

Jules Simon has a big brain and a big nose, and is, taking all in all, one of the ablest of living Frenchmen.

The Princess Clémence, whom I look upon as a woman of great capacity, has the large, hooked nose of the seventeenth century Bourbons and Condés.

Wilkes Colt $3500.00.

E. H. Barnum of Maitland, Mo., writes under date Oct. 25th as follows: "I inclose you order for Quinn's Ointment, the bottle I received from you some time since has saved a fine Wilkes Colt for me worth $3500.00 it is a grand remedy." Ask your druggist for it.

No Flirting at Prayer Meetings.

One Lewiston girl believes that prayer meetings are not the place for flirtations and pairing off. She has known what it is to expect one or two men waiting at the church door every Sunday night with the question whether or no he may go home with her. She has determined to rid herself of both, and probably has. She went to the cake walk in Lyceum hall Saturday night, and during evening both asked permission to escort her home. She said yes to both. They both waited for her on the landing, and when she came down stairs she smiled and took on of each young man's arms.

At first they hesitated a little, but then went down the last flight of stairs at a jerky gait. At the foot of the stairs they both let go her arm and walked up Libanon street, looking ugly at each other. She entertained them both with lively stories of the evening's entertainment. Each thought that the other would drop off at the head of the street and he would go home with the pretty girl; but no, they both went on up Main street wishing in their inmost hearts that they were out of it. What a fool the other fellow was. Why didn't he leave?

In the meantime they went past corner after corner where each thought surely the other would say good night, for had not the girl said he might go home with her? So on they went until the gate was reached, and with a pretty thought about the effect of the moon on the dried leaves in the gutter she asked them both in.

They both said it was late and looked nervous. "Can't you both come up and see me Thursday evening?" she asked. "Mamma would be pleased to meet you."

One said he had an engagement at the store that night and the other said he was going out of town Thursday. After a moment, during which each thought it was time for the other to move on, the young lady said good night and went up the steps. No one annoyed her Sunday night when she came out of prayer meeting.

Good for a Giggle.

WHAT JOHNNY SAID.
Mamma—"Johnny, what do you say to the lady for the cookey?"
Johnny (munching away)—"I say it's a darn good one—has the old maid got any more?"—[Epoch.]

NOT TO BE SNEEZED AT.
"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"
"I am going to sneeze, kind sir," she said.
"Whom are you sneezing at, my pretty maid?"
"I'm going to sneeze—a-chew!" she said.—[Puck.]

HIT US AGAIN.
Jacky (precious)—Ma, my Sunday-school teacher says ever day is Sunday in heaven.
Mamma—yes; it is the place where Sabbath's ne'er break up," my son.

Jacky—How degraded the daily press must be there!—[Life.]
WANTED A GRADUATE.
Farmer Meddergrass: "Be you a lawyer, Sir?"
Blackstone (with dignity)—"I am practicing law, Sir."
Meddergrass (moving away)—"I thought maybe you'd got the trade learned. I'll go to somebody else."—[Epoch.]

GOOD ENOUGH FOR HIM.
Closest.—"You tell me that you never smoke, gamble or drink?"
Clarklets.—"Yes, sir."
Closest.—I shouldn't want my daughter to marry a perfect man, but I guess you will do; you seem to be quite an accomplished liar.—[New York Truth.]

Went One Dirtier.
As a boy in the rude village school at Salisbury, N. H., Daniel Webster was not free from small pranks and mischiefs. Once he was called up by the master to be flogged. Hold out your hand, was the command, and out went the right hand. "Dan," exclaimed the master, in a reproving tone, looking at the dirty little paw, "if you show me a dirtier hand than that in all this school I'll let you off." Immediately Webster thrust out the other hand. The schoolmaster was stupefied. But he was as good as his word; he let the boy off.—[Argonaut.]

"Seeing is Believing."
And a good lamp
must be simple; when it is not simple it is not good. Simple, Beautiful, Good—the words mean much, but to see "The Rochester" will impress the truth more forcibly. All metal, tough and seamless, and made in three pieces only, it is absolutely safe and unbreakable. Like Aladdin's of old, it is indeed a "wonderful lamp," for its marvelous light is purer and brighter than gas light, softer than electric light and more cheerful than either.
Look for this stamp—THE ROCHESTER. If the lamp dealer has not the genuine Rochester, and the style you want, send us for our new illustrated catalogue, and we will send you a lamp safely by express—your choice of over 3,000 varieties from the Largest Lamp Store in the World.
